

FORTUNE GARDEN

KYOTO JAPAN

ESTABLISHED 1927

Shimadzu Seisakusho

Soon after the Meiji Restoration, in 1875, the factory established in Kiyamachi, Kyoto. The second president, also known as the “Japanese Thomas Edison”, invented the first domestic made X-ray machine. In 2002, a member of the factory, Koichi Tanaka, achieved a novel prize in chemistry, thus becoming famous as a novel prize winning businessman.

Please learn more about Shimadzu

<http://www.shimadzu.com/visionary/moment/chapter-01/01.html>

<http://www.shimadzu.com/visionary/moment/>

FORTUNE GARDEN

KYOTO JAPAN

ESTABLISHED 1927

STORY OF FORTUNE GARDEN KYOTO

In 1927, on a corner next to Kyoto City Hall, facing Kawaramachi St., “Shimadzu Seisakusho Kyu-Honsha Building” was built by the master craftsman Goichi Takeda, known as the father of architecture of Western Japan.

For years, the place looked upon Kyoto’s development and wished for grace upon the people of Kyoto.

The beautiful building supported innovation of technology and contributed to Japan’s rapid economic growth for years. 85 years after its’ birth, in the year 2012, the place was renovated in to a new facility, with the new name of “Fortune Garden Kyoto”, and began a new page in the history of Kyoto.

Access

FORTUNE GARDEN KYOTO

386-2 Ichinofunairi-cho, Nakagyo-ku, Kyoto-shi, Kyoto 604-0924, Japan

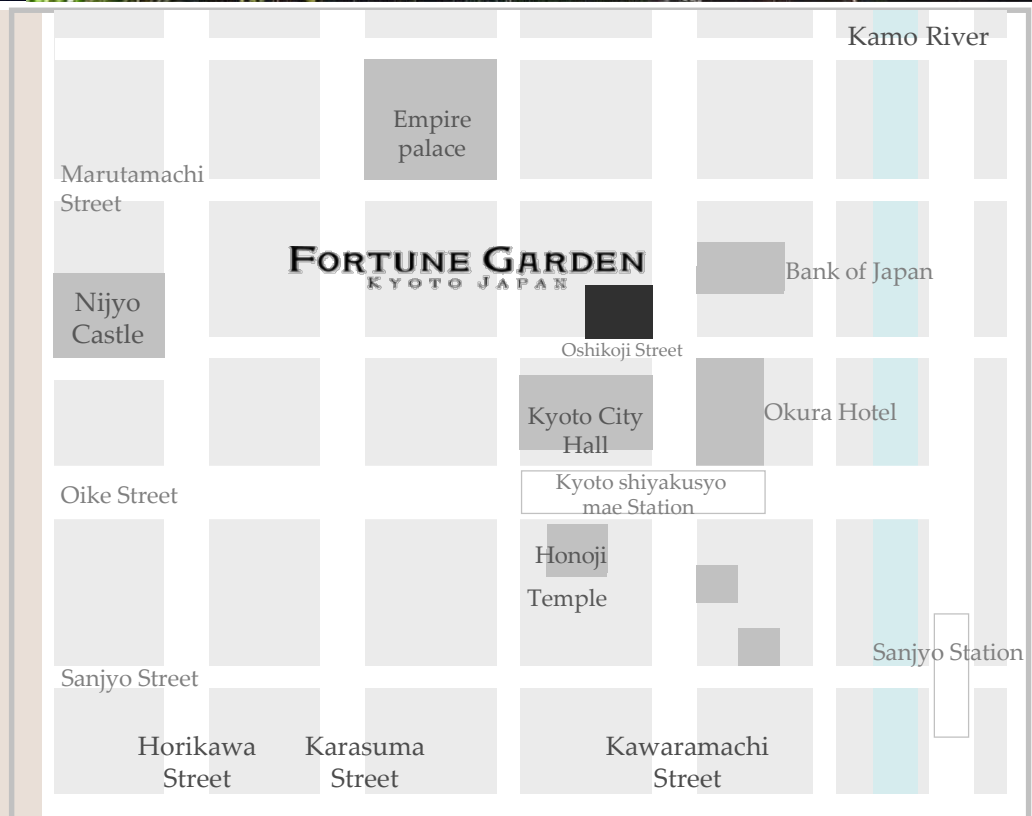

TEL: 075-254-8830

Mai: party.fgk@plandosee.co.jp

URL: www.fortunegarden.com

1min walk from Kyoto Shiyakusyo-mae Station of Tozai Line

8mins walk from Sanjyo Station of Keihan Line

- SKY LOUNGE -

5th Lounge Area

